Breed Promotion—Lesson's Learned

President's Message – Mark Schulz, President

Fall is here. We are just coming off of 12 days at the Minnesota State Fair displaying Highlands in the Moo Booth, and the NCHCA Regional Super Point show in Austin, MN. It is time to get back to getting things done here at the farm again, but also time to reflect on the past summer and make future plans.

Many lessons can be learned by attending events and displaying animals. The MN State Fair boasted a record attendance of 1.8 million people over the 12 days. If only 10% of those people walked into the barns and went through the Moo Booth, we were exposed to 180,000 people over the 12 days. Even if only 1% came through, we still talked to 18,000 people. By the end of the fair it feels like you have talked to each and every one. There aren't many places you can go and get that kind of exposure for the breed.

The only way a 12 day display, 6 am to 8 pm, works is because our association members step up and either bring animals or come and work at the display. We had 10 members help throughout the fair and 3 family members came to help, so we could get away from the display for a while. Every minute of help was much appreciated.

This was our second year in the Moo Booth area, when most breeds are only there for one year. Why? Someone was by the animals constantly and engaged the fairgoers. We had handouts available for people. We kept the pen and the animals clean. We had animals there that represented the breed well. The animals were gentle and people could pet them if they wanted. The person in charge of the Moo Booth was impressed after our first year and asked us back for the 2nd year. She even hinted we may be back for a third year!

MISSION STATEMENT: North Central Highland Cattle Association shall protect the integrity and sustainability of the Highland breed by promoting education and social interactions of its members.

What does it take to do something like this? Keep things basic. We offered the AHCA brochure, NCHCA brochure and fact sheet. We had the Highland beef cuts poster up (a surprisingly big attraction), and a write-up on the individual animals along with the banner. Lots of people read the animal write-ups, which was a big help in reducing the number of basic questions. It kept people there that may have passed by without stopping and gave people a start to a conversation if they wanted to ask more questions.

Lessons learned:

- People like handouts, it is not a waste to have them printed and available
- People like a story – whether it is about the animals or your farm
- An animal that is tame is important. Many people have never been that close to an animal of that size, and you can make a person's day by allowing them to pet your cow or calf
- Having information on where people can purchase meat is important after you tell them how excellent the beef is!
- Having a younger calf would help avoid the assumption that they were a bull and cow and not a cow/calf. People thought our 5 month old calf was full grown
- Be willing to spend time talking with everyone, not just those that you think may buy animals/meat/etc. It took us 15 years of visiting the NCHCA display at the fair before we purchased any animals

We have some of the most giving and generous people in this association. That is what makes it work as well as it does. If you know of an opportunity to display Highlands, start talking with people in the association. Even if you don't have animals to bring, maybe someone else does. Maybe you can be there with the animals when the owners can't. Maybe there is just space for the association display. There are many things that we can all do. Right now is a great time for the beef industry, and after the high hay prices and the spring blizzard of 2013, animal numbers are down. Last winter was tough on cattle, but our breed is made for that. Grass fed beef seems to be picking up in popularity; rather than what some thought would be a fad. More people want to know where their food comes from or even want to raise their own beef. Our breed is a great option for all of the above. Get out there and promote the breed we all love. You will never be sorry. Who doesn't love to talk about their herd? Remember to thank all the people who spend their vacation days from work at events displaying or showing their animals. It helps us all.

Share your passion and others will appreciate your effort. Even if it is just to stop and enjoy the sight of a calf nursing- we forget people don't get to see that every day. We should remember to appreciate that we get that opportunity every day!

Congratulations!

Junior Highland Allegiance Award presented to Nathan Larson

The Junior Highland Allegiance Award is presented to an outstanding junior in the American Highland Cattle Association junior membership. This is an annual award and presented yearly at the National Convention. The sole purpose of the Junior Highland Allegiance Award is to acknowledge AHCA juniors who have gone above and beyond to represent the Highland cattle breed. This award symbolizes their dedication and perseverance in promoting and educating the public about Highland cattle, participation in public venues, research projects and overall participation in the AHCA junior membership. This year's winner is Nathan Larson from Four T Acres, Burlington, Wisconsin. Congratulations Nate and thanks for your dedication to the Highland breed.

AHCAj Heifer Program Winner: Reilly McConnell

The AHCAj Heifer Program was initiated as a program to encourage and promote youth members who have the interest and enthusiasm for the Highland breed. The focus of the program is to award the recipient a heifer to begin their breeding program or enhance their current herd. The program will help instill the values of good herdsmanship. The junior will be responsible for nutrition, vaccination programs, housing and the overall management of the heifer as well as a breeding program. The end result of the program should be the youth member learning good values of raising Highland cattle while providing an experience they will not forget as well as the initiation or addition to the awarded junior's herd. This year's recipient is one of our NCHCA Junior members, Reilly McConnell of Pell Creek Highlands, Ballaton, MN. Reilly will be receiving a heifer donated by Spring Flight Farm of Elmira, NY. Congratulations, Reilly!

NCHCA Junior of the Year: Nathan Larson

The NCHCA Junior of the Year award is given annually to an outstanding junior member who shows dedication to the Highland breed, is an active member of his or her community and is a role model for other juniors. This year's recipient is Nathan Larson. Nate takes every opportunity to promote Highland Cattle and recently purchased his first heifer to start his own herd. He is quick to lend a hand to anyone who needs help and takes pride in helping younger juniors learn and grow. Great job, Nate!

World Beef Expo

Congratulations to Paige Proctor for exhibiting her Highland heifer in the junior show at the 2014 World Beef Expo in West Allis, WI. In addition to participating in showmanship and the breed show, she placed 5th in her age group in the Junior Sweepstakes, a contest incorporating general knowledge tests on animal diseases, nutrition, equipment, and anatomy; an essay contest, photography contest; public speaking and live animal judging. Way to go, Paige!

World Beef Expo 2014

World Beef Expo 2014 was held September 26th through 28th at the Wisconsin State Fairgrounds at West Allis, WI. The weather this year was very nice, with temperatures reaching close to 80 degrees by Saturday. This year the highlands were well represented, with seven farms in attendance and twenty seven animals entered in classes. Thursday evening provided an opportunity for the Highland exhibitors to get together, with a wine and cheese social hour sponsored by Cobblestone Farm and Creachann Gleann farm. Friday evening after the open show, folks again gathered for pizza sponsored by Windemere farm and birthday cake sponsored by Four T Acres. Four T Acres also brought the now customary bowl and Scotch whisky to pass around. The farms in attendance showed that as a group they can enjoy a little friendly rivalry and still work together to have a good time and make a show a success. We received comments from one of the officials from WBE about how clean we kept our area of the barn. Some of the exhibitors commented on how nice the facility was. Overall, it was a very successful event. Thanks to those who attended. Hopefully we'll see everyone back next year.

The North Central Highland Cattle Association (NCHCA) was formed in 1982 to promote Scottish Highland Cattle, form a marketing unit for breeders, and to provide a local organization closer to home. The organization has done this and provides opportunities for youth and families to have fun with their Highland cattle. Our association provides networking and educational opportunities for its members, has an active junior program for youth, and provides a local voice to the national organization, the American Highland Cattle Association.

NCHCA 2015 Calendars are available!

2015 North Central Highland Cattle Association Calendars may be purchased for $20 which includes shipping and handling. These make great gifts for family and friends and helps promote Highlands for all of us.
